

PRESS RELEASE

DATE: 05/03/2011

SUBJECT: Jacqueline Hill is an inspiration

She is a Dynamo who is coming to Kenilworth to bring out the artist in you. Jacqui will be showing The Wonders of Watercolour to beginners and people with little or no watercolour experience.

- Experience the thrill of achieving something you thought might be beyond you. You will take home your own painting that will amaze your family and friends.
- Jacqueline and her recent major artwork Deep Forest II were featured on the front cover of Australian Artist Magazine in September 2009 – with an 8-page feature article – The Making of Deep Forest II.
- After holding several showings in 2007, Jacqueline had her first major solo exhibition in 2008 and also attended the art fair Art Brisbane 08, achieving a sell-out on her Eastern style watercolour animal series. Every solo exhibition she has had to date has had record sales of artworks to an increasing number of collectors.

Jacqueline's Surprising Former Career

- Originally studied as a computer scientist majoring in mathematics & science.
- Qualifications: First class honours degree in Computer Science, thesis on robotics and artificial intelligence – University of Adelaide 1983. (B.Sc. Hons)
- Worked for many years very successfully as a computer programmer/analyst in the engineering field. Also trained mine site staff around Australia and overseas in Computer Aided Drafting (CAD) software
- Wrote software used for building bridges & other reinforced concrete structures around Australia, such as the Gateway Bridge, the Brisbane AirTrain project, and many others
